Want to go to college?
We have your opportunity.

Inspired by the Odyssey Project started at UW-Madison, Paving the Path to College provides adults, who may not have considered it previously, an accessible way to attend college.

This two-credit course taught by university faculty, helps students gain a voice and a sense of empowerment through lively discussion of literature, history, philosophy, art and writing. Tuition is covered by sponsors/donors.

Never been to college?

Why consider college? There is a growing gap in the workforce in this country. According to a study by the University of Michigan, “college completion is the single most important predictor of success in the workplace.”

This program introduces you to college, in a safe, adult-friendly environment. After completing this course, we will work with you on next steps to continue your college education.

College is possible… let us help you get there!

What past students and faculty are saying.

“I would say the Odyssey Project is a life-changing experience provided by people whose sole purpose is to help you succeed in your educational and life journey.”
- Eric Rodgers, graduate of UW-Madison’s Odyssey Project

“The humanities are what human beings do. The disciplined and practiced reflection on human life and its possibilities...is just intrinsically valuable.”
- Amy Thomas Elder, Director of the Odyssey Project in Chicago, IL
